LIST OF KNOWN BUGS/UNINTENDED BEHAVIOR

- Multiple Review Requests (Unintended Behavior)
 - Description: An artist can make multiple review requests to the same business with the same image multiple times.
 - Reason: This is because each review object is given a uuid which our database treats as two separate requests, even though the content of the reviews are the same
- Signout Authentication (Bug)
 - Description: Upon sign out, the site routes back to the login page. If the user refreshes the page at this point, the user will be alerted with “not authenticated” and will be routed to the home page for logged in users. At this point the user can access pages for logged in users, but are not authorized to use any of the features, leading to no changes in the database. Pressing log out again will link to the login page again and the bug can be repeated. To avoid this bug, click on the home page after clicking on sign out.
 - Reason: unknown
- Incorrect Side Bar (Bug)
 - Description: Upon sign out, if another user signs in, the sidebar is displayed for the user type of the first user. This does not matter if both users were of the same type, but this bugs make it possible for an artist to see a business sidebar and vice versa. Refreshing the page will result in the correct sidebar being displayed.
 - Reason: unknown
- Credit Amount Incorrectly Displayed (Bug)
 - Description: If an artists requests a review, their credits are decremented in the database. This decrease in credits is not shown on the browser until the page.
 - Reason: Credit amounts are only checked when a page loads
- SignUp Verification (Bug)
 - Description: If an artist or business sign up and input their confirmation code they received in their email, the confirmation of the confirmation code function throws an error. This results in the page not routing to the home page. The artist/business must manually sign in to go to their home page.
 - Reason: The error thrown was error code 1. It is unknown how to solve this issue.

- Refresh (Bug)

- Description: If the user refreshes the page when they are uploading an image, requesting a review or writing a review, they will lose information that they have input. This results in some pages not working correctly because they depend on a previous page's input.
- Reason: We use redux to communicate between components. The redux store does not persist after a page is refreshed
